[Library patron with a librarian]

- A. Hello. I'm looking for the Annual Review of Nutrition Science, volume sixteen.
- B. Let me check the *computer records... Yes. In July those issues were moved to the new unit. We have a complete collection through last January. Only a few have been checked out to students.
- A. I'm curious. What were the arguments used to justify moving some items to new quarters and not others?
- B. The crucial factors were the value of the book or things requiring scrupulous attention to environmental conditions, particularly anything that might be ruined by an accumulation of humidity. We moved numerous rare documents, expensive judicial serials, genuinely old *newspapers, original manuscripts, truly unique items, and things like that.
